

Wild Rose SURI RANCH

It's Open Farm and Shearing Day!

Saturday, April 30th, 10am-4pm

Greetings!

It's shearing day! Time for our annual harvest of beautiful and rare suri fiber. Our suri alpacas have worked all year long to produce the finest of fiber for knitting, hand spinning, and weaving, and all fiber arts. Please join us at our farm for a great day of fun and shopping for unique handmade gifts for you or that special person. Get close up and personal with the friendly alpacas: Meet Kalahari, Rhianna, Eureka and many other friendly alpacas. See the alpacas, interact one-on-one with them, see demos on working with fiber, and shop! Want to know more about raising alpacas for fun or profit? Sign up for upcoming seminars.

Special appearance: Miniature spotted donkey babies, Annabelle and Willie. New baby goats, Daisy and Maci will be here, too. Fresh local brown eggs from Rocky Acres Mini Farm and Wild Rose Suri Ranch organic grape jam available for sale.

ACTIVITIES

Treat yourself to a day of fun and fresh air in a gorgeous setting and experience the alpacas from shearing the fiber, seeing it handspun, to the final finished products. Walk in the pastures and pet the friendly alpacas, too!

- Watch as the alpacas are shorn for their valuable fiber.
- Handspinning, weaving, knitting and carding demos
